

Description

Star Madness is a fun and addictive game for tablets and smartphones that tests your reflexes!

You play as an astronaut called Jim, who has a mission: capture all the shooting stars, but avoid the meteors. Using a simple tap gesture on the screen, you must tap the stars when they reach the target visor of your ship. However, this is not an easy task, since the stars move at different speeds and you can't miss any. You must also be careful to not tap any asteroids, or they will damage your ship. Quick reflexes and sharp attention are the key to your success!
